

THE TINGLE FAMILIES OF DELAWARE , KENTUCKY, INDIANA AND ILLINOIS
(These men were probably brothers; but if not, were closely related)

John, Jasper, and Thomas Tingle, probably brothers to Littleton, their families

Littleton Tingle was lived in the disputed area between Maryland and Delaware. His children claim to be born in Maryland, yet he shows up on the tax records of Sussex County, Delaware, in in the late 1780's, along with John, Jasper, and Thomas. *Tax records of Sussex Co, Delaware. In order of appearance on tax records John, Jasper, Littleton, and Thomas all in Baltimore Hundred. (All of Sussex searched not just Baltimore Hundred). Tax records of Sussex Co. Delaware are not complete, some records weren't dated, some years missing. The years prior to John's first appearance in 1782 were missing. Last appeared in 1794. (FHL film # 6,685) Tax records of Worchester and Somerset Counties Maryland also searched.

He moved with his brothers (Littleton and John were brothers. Mabel Lansberry who is a descendant of Littleton married her cousin Claude Tingle. Claude is a descendant of Kindle who's father was probably John.) to Fayette County, Kentucky. Littleton first appears on the Fayette County, Kentucky, tax records August 25, 1795. *Tax Books, Fayette County, Kentucky (GS # 2638 pt 107). John 1st appears 1796. Jasper and Thomas 1st appears August 24, 1795. He moved to Henry County, Kentucky, in 1806 where he appears on the tax records in 1807 along with Thomas Tingle and Kindle Tingle who would probably be the oldest son of John. Kindle does not appear in the tax records of Delaware nor Fayette County, until 1801 which may be shortly before or after his marriage to Lucy Redman. (See Will of Frances Redman in Fayette County, Kentucky, where Elizabeth Tingle is named as his granddaughter; Elizabeth's marriage to Jacob White in Henry County, Kentucky, gives Kindle as her father; also land records of Henry County, Kentucky, gives Kindle and wife Lucy. No record of marriage has been found either in Kentucky, Delaware, or Maryland.)
